

The presidential address dealt mainly with the success that was attending control work and investigation into insect biology all over the world, and also with the prospects of the Society in view of the financial depression.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

Honorary President—Francis Kermode.

President—J. W. Winson.

Vice-President (coast)—G. J. Spencer.

“ (interior)—E. R. Buckell.

Advisory Board—Messrs. Downes, Larnder, Eastham, Lyne and Whittaker.

Honorary Secretary-treasurer—R. Glendenning, Agassiz, B. C.

Honorary Auditor—J. W. Eastham.

The meeting adjourned at 5 p.m.

Report of the Secretary Treasurer for 1930

I beg to submit the following details of the activities of this Society for the past year.

FINANCES

The Society ends the year with a credit balance of $10.90, with no liabilities. $314 has been spent as set forth in the financial statement.

MEMBERSHIP

Our membership has increased from 30 to 41, and amongst the new members are several good workers.

PROCEEDINGS

Despite the curtailed grant from the Provincial Government Number 27 of our Proceedings is before you to-day, and I think lives up to our usual high standard of interest and value.

LIBRARY

A great many accessions of new bulletins and pamphlets have been received during the year but our finances have not permitted the purchasing of any books.

ADVISORY BOARD

Two meetings of this executive have been held during 1930 when routine matters were dealt with. The preparation of matter for the Manual of B. C. Entomology is proceeding slowly, but many difficulties are being met with.

R. GLENDENNING,
Hon. Secretary-treasurer.
